On The Way

Catechesis on the Eucharist: The Bread of Life Discourse, 3

In his teaching, it wasn't uncommon for our Lord to meet with confusion in his listeners. After all, he used human words to convey divine truths. It was reasonable that they would need some explaining. When he taught Nicodemus about the necessity of Baptism (Jn 3), that scholar didn't grasp what it meant to be "born anew." He asked Jesus, "How can a man be born when he is old? Can he enter a second time into his mother's womb and be born?" So, our Lord patiently explained the metaphor and the meaning of spiritual rebirth. Nicodemus was taking him too literally.

Likewise, the Samaritan woman at the well (Jn 4) didn't understand his reference to "living water." She responded, "Sir, you have nothing to draw with, and the well is deep; where do you get that living water?" Again, Jesus patiently explained the metaphor, that she was taking his words too literally, and that this water was the Holy Spirit.

So when the crowds in Capernaum (Jn 6) take issue with Jesus' words, we should fully expect that, as before, he would clarify what he meant and show where they had misunderstood him. Based on the previous two events, it would be reasonable to presume an explanation of how they were interpreting him too literally. Like "born anew" and "living water," the phrase "I am the bread of life" should be understood as a metaphor for a spiritual reality.

But he doesn't. One of the most distinct and shocking elements of the Bread of Life Discourse is our Lord's repeated insistence that the literal, physical interpretation is the correct one. This is no mere metaphor. Three different times, the crowds take issue with what he says. Each time he confirms what he had said previously. He "doubles down," as we might say. Technically, he "triples down."

First, the Jews "murmured at him, because he said, 'I am the bread which came down from heaven.'" Our Lord responds strongly, "Do not murmur among yourselves..." and then proceeds to strengthen what he had just said: proclaiming not only "I am the bread come down from heaven" but now something even stronger, "I am the bread of life...I am the living bread which came down from heaven; if any one eats of this bread, he will live forever; and the bread which I shall give for the life of the world is my flesh."

The Jews again respond with incredulity: "How can this man give us his flesh to eat?" To which our Lord answers even more strongly and with a solemn introduction: "Truly, truly, I say to you, unless you eat the flesh of the Son of man and drink his blood, you have no life in you...For my flesh is food indeed, and my blood is drink indeed. He who eats my flesh and drinks my blood abides in me, and I in him."

Because of this, some disciples conclude that they can no longer follow him. They ask, "This is a hard saying; who can listen to it?" To which our Lord still doesn't respond with a concession or a metaphorical explanation. He allows them to depart. "After this many of his disciples drew back and no longer went about with him." May we not be those who draw back and are lost. May we make our own Saint Peter response to this teaching: "Lord, to whom shall we go? You have the words of eternal life; and we have believed, and have come to know, that you are the Holy One of God."

Baby Bottle Collection Campaign

In celebration of October as Pro-Life Month, the Saint James Respect Life and Gabriel Project groups are running a Baby Bottle Campaign to raise funds for Hope in Northern Virginia. Saint James was the founding church that started Hope in 1971. For 52 years, Hope has been saving lives—rescuing children from abortion, ministering to moms and dads, and sharing the gospel. Today, your support enables them to provide free pregnancy tests, ultrasounds, options guidance, resources, and so much more to scared and confused women who are experiencing a highly vulnerable time in their lives.

Baby bottles will be handed out after all the Masses on October 28-29. We encourage you to take a bottle home, fill it with coins, cash, or a check, and return the baby bottle to church the weekend of November 4-5.

You can also donate online at www.bit.ly/givehopanova or visit the website www.friendsofhopeinnova.org. Together we can help more women experience the hope of saying yes to life!

SAINT JAMES CATHOLIC CHURCH YOUTH MINISTRY

Stewardship—The Gift of Time, Talent, and Treasure

World Mission Sunday October 21-22

In 1926 Pope Pius XI instituted Mission Sunday for the whole Church with the first worldwide Mission Sunday collection taking place in October 1927. Each year, the Mission Sunday collection is taken on the next to last Sunday during the month of October. Mission Sunday is celebrated in all the local Churches as the feast of catholicity and universal solidarity. The goal is for all Christians to recognize their common responsibility to evangelize the whole world.

This collection will support over 1,000 local churches in Asia and Africa, the Pacific Islands, and parts of Latin America and Europe. Through the work of these missionary churches, the poor receive practical help and experience God's love, mercy, hope, and peace. You can donate via Faith Direct at membership.faithdirect.net/givenow/VA50/1492.

Porto Charities Special Kids/Special Needs Campaign

Thank you for your generous response to our Porto Charities special collection in support of their Special Kids/Special Needs Campaign. If you missed the special collection, you can still make an online donation at <https://membership.faithdirect.net/givenow/VA50/44791> or send a check made out to Saint James Catholic Church with "Porto Charities" written in the memo line.

The mission of Porto Charities is to provide grants to Catholic schools and organizations in Northern Virginia that serve children and young adults with intellectual and developmental disabilities. One of the biggest challenges for Catholic Schools is having enough resources – such as specialized teachers, training, and curriculum—to support our children with intellectual and developmental disabilities. This charity is near and dear to Bishop Burbidge's heart as it aligns with his strategic goal of making Catholic education accessible and affordable to all. We want our special needs students to attend school with their siblings and have access to the beauty of a Catholic education, but this requires financial resources and support. Thanks to the generosity of Porto Charities, Saint James has been the recipient of grants for its K-8 and preschool programs. Thank you for your inspiring support of this wonderful, local charity! From Satanist to Apostle of the Rosary

With St. Therese of Lisieux and St. Teresa of Avila, Carmelites can seem to “own” the month of October. But there’s a wowzah of a Lay Dominican to celebrate, too. Blessed Bartolo Longo (1841-1926) was raised Catholic, lost his faith in college, was “ordained” a Satanist “priest,” and was brought back to the Faith by a Dominican who gave Bartolo a wake-up call and guided him to devotion to the Rosary. Bartolo went on to raise a shrine (now Basilica) to Our Lady in Pompeii. At Bartolo’s 1980 beatification, Pope St. John Paul II dubbed him “Apostle of the Rosary.” Blessed Bartolo shows that no matter how deeply a soul may be mired in sin and error, there is hope in the inexhaustible mercy of God.

The St. Mary Magdalene Lay Dominicans invite you to join them for prayer, fellowship, and discussion this Sunday, October 15th, from 5:00pm-6:45pm in the Parish House. No sign-up needed. For questions, email InquiryVeritas519@gmail.com.
