August Prayer Intention of Pope Francis

Small Businesses-We pray for small and medium sized businesses; in the midst of economic and social crisis, may they find ways to continue operating, and serving their communities.

On The Way

Catechesis on the Church: the Body of Christ

The words were seared into Saint Paul's memory. As he journeyed to Damascus to arrest disciples of the Lord, he was thrown to the ground and heard a voice ask, "Saul, Saul, why do you persecute me?" (Acts 9:4) Notice, not them or my followers or my Church, but me. When he asked, "Who are you?" the response came, "I am Jesus, whom you are persecuting" (Acts 9:5). When Jesus appeared to Saul of Tarsus, he made no distinction between himself and his Church.

Saul had reached out to seize Christ's followers and found that he was touching Christ himself. It's no wonder that years later Saint Paul would write so beautifully about the Church as the Body of Christ.

This description of the Church shows forth the profound union of Christ's followers with him. There are different kinds of union possible for groups of people. There is a moral union, when various people come together on account of a common interest, principle, or goal. There's a legal union, when people bind themselves together by law. But the most profound is an organic union, when two become one body, as Christ the Bridegroom becomes with his Bride.

Christ is head of the Church, not as Henry Ford was head of Ford Motor Company or Elon Musk is head of Tesla but just as that thing on your shoulders is the head of your body. In fact, even more so, because your head can be separated from your body, but Christ can never be separated from his Church.

So, we are one with Christ, not in a merely moral or legal sense but in the organic sense of being part of his Body. By Baptism we are incorporated (in + corpore, literally in the body) into Christ. There are not two Christs, one in heaven and one in the world. There is only the one Christ, head and members. Christ the head reigns in heaven even as he continues his presence on earth by way of his Body.

This truth about the Church reveals the profound union that exists – or ought to exist – among Christians. Indeed, it was precisely to teach against divisions in the Church in Corinth that Saint Paul explicitly stated this teaching. "For just as the body is one and has many members, and all the members of the body, though many, are one body, so it is with Christ. For by one Spirit we were all baptized into one body--Jews or Greeks, slaves or free" (1 Cor 12:12-13). An assault on the unity of Christians is, as Saul had discovered, an assault on Christ himself.

At the Last Supper, Jesus himself uses a similar image, that of the vine and the branches. Again, this is not an image but the reality. "I am the true vine," he says, implying that the vines we see in this world are simply images of him (Jn 15:5). "I am the vine, you are the branches" (Jn 15:5). The organic union of vine and branches that we encounter in this world is but an image of the union between Christ and Christians. Even more than a vine and its branches have one life and one purpose, even more than the vine is present by way of its branches, Christ and his Church have one life, one purpose, and he the vine is present and bearing fruit through his branches.

Next week: the Body of Christ, continued.

Second Collection for Catholic University September 3-4

Next weekend, September 3-4, the diocese will be taking up the National Collection for The Catholic University of America. Located in the heart of the nation's capital, Catholic University, founded in 1887, offers graduate and undergraduate courses in more than 180 academic programs. By giving to the National Collection, you will help support more than 6,000 students who are seeking a faith-filled education at an institution that supports cutting edge research in multiple fields.

Your investment will enable the University to continue to support the Church and to advance its work of preparing the next generation of leadership, both religious and lay, of our Church and nation. It will also enable the continuance of The Catholic Project, a University initiative jumpstarted by philanthropy which aims to help bishops, priests, and the lay faithful develop a deeper understanding of the lay vocation and principles for effective action in the wake of the recent Church crisis. Through research, new academic programs, and dialogue, the project brings together the clergy and lay leaders to develop solutions to the issues facing our Church and bring about reforms. Saint James History—Msgr. Paul V. Heller

Fifth Pastor of Saint James Parish (1953-1977)

Model for the Priesthood

Being at Saint James Parish with Msgr. Paul V. Heller was truly an assignment a newly-ordained priest would cherish. Msgr. Heller was an acknowledged mentor and guide for new priests, a seasoned shepherd showing new shepherds the way. Msgr. Frank Hendrick was one of those new priests, assigned to Saint James on his ordination in 1954.

Now in the 69th year of his priesthood, Msgr. Hendrick is retired and living in North Carolina. He sent this message in memory of Msgr. Heller for the September celebration.

It was in May 1954 that I received a letter from Bishop Ireton. The letter read: "You are to report to Father Paul Heller on May 28 as an assistant priest at St. James Parish in Falls Church, VA. Kindly write to Father Heller regarding your time of arrival." At that time, I was unaware of one of the greatest blessings in my life. The five years of my early priesthood were times of learning and joy. Father Heller, later Monsignor, was a source of inspiration for me as well as for the wonderful parishioners of St. James.

Permit me to recall one example of Father Heller that has remained with me for 67 years; in this instance never a word was spoken. It was by example. After every Mass celebrated by my pastor he would return to the sanctuary and make his thanksgiving. He would acknowledge his great privilege of having confected the Sacrament of the Holy Eucharist. Father would silently thank God for giving him the joy of holding in his hand the body, blood, soul and divinity of Jesus Christ. He would thank the Father for his fine parishioners and for having fed them with the Body of Christ. Now Father could begin his day of fulfilling the other duties of his holy priesthood. Deo Gratias.
