On The Way

The Apostles: Saint Thomas

The ancient tradition is that Saint Thomas was an architect. He is typically depicted holding a builder's square to indicate this profession. The tradition comes from the story of his missionary work in India, where he encountered a ruler and promised to build him a beautiful palace. For this purpose, the ruler gave Thomas a sum of money, which he promptly gave to the poor. The real dwelling that Thomas promised was eternal and spiritual, not to be bought or made with human hands.

Of course, he's better known as "Doubting Thomas," on account of his questions about our Lord's resurrection. But rather than tarnish this faithful Apostle's name, perhaps we can discern in his questions the wisdom of an architect. Because anyone serious about building the Christian life must first guarantee firm foundations.

We hear little from or about him in the Gospels. It is Thomas, however, who speaks these bold words to the other Apostles, as our Lord determines to go up to Jerusalem and His passion and death: "Let us also go, that we may die with him" (Jn 11:16). That already gives us a sense of Thomas's devotion – and his attention to the foundations. For the Christian life must be built on that unconditional following of Christ, even to dying with Him.

Then it is Thomas who asks our Lord at the Last Supper, "Lord, we do not know where you are going; how can we know the way?" (Jn 14:5) This also has the sound of a master builder, who wants the specs in order to accomplish the work. It's also a matter of final causality. If we know what the end product looks like, we can get started on the way of construction.

We hear about Thomas most of all after our Lord's resurrection (see Jn 20:19-31). When the Apostles recount that they had seen the risen Lord, he famously responds, "Unless I see in his hands the print of the nails, and place my finger in the mark of the nails, and place my hand in his side, I will not believe." A week later Jesus appears again and says to Thomas, "Put your finger here, and see my hands; and put out your hand, and place it in my side; do not be faithless, but believing." Thomas cries out those beautiful words, "My Lord and my God!" And our Lord proclaims, "Have you believed because you have seen me? Blessed are those who have not seen and yet believe."

Thomas's doubt is to our benefit – in a sense, foundational – in two ways. First, because he uncovers the firmness of our faith: Blessed are those who have not seen and yet believe. We think that if only we could see and touch and verify everything for ourselves, then we would be more secure. That's a naïve thought, because many people saw and heard and touched our Lord but still didn't believe in Him. Indeed, they betrayed and executed Him. Faith is sure and certain because it is a knowledge not based on our minds but on the testimony of God Himself. Human knowledge comes from trust in our mind's ability to know. We have divine knowledge, because we trust in the Word of God.

Second, Thomas's doubt benefits us because he calls attention to the importance of our Lord's wounds. He intuits that for the resurrection to have meaning – to be a firm foundation – Jesus must bear the wounds of Good Friday. The wounds of the risen Savior display His victory over sin and death – not just life after death but life through death and, in that way, triumphant over it. And that's the firm foundation for building the Christian life.

Stop the Abortion Amendment – JUST VOTE NO
Parental rights are not addressed in the abortion amendment. The danger of the abortion amendment stems from the vague and broadly written wording which opens the door to harmful interpretations by the courts in the future.

The wording of the amendment states

- "That every individual has the fundamental right to reproductive freedom." Minors could be given the same right as adults.
- That "The Commonwealth shall not discriminate in the protection or enforcement of this fundamental right." Parental rights could be dismissed.
- That the Commonwealth "shall not penalize, prosecute, or otherwise take adverse action against any individual for aiding or assisting another individual in exercising such other individual's right to reproductive freedom." Someone other than a parent could assist with a minor's abortion or transgender treatments with full protection of the law.

There are no provisions for parental rights the health and well-being of children in this amendment. JUST VOTE NO to this amendment.

Creation Care Ministry—Parish Garden Planting

New and returning volunteers joined Creation Care Ministry members Thursday evening, May 14th, to plant our 2026 parish garden. We began with a prayer from Father Pavlick, who visited to share a special blessing for the season. He referred to Saint Isidore, an 11th century Spanish farmer from Madrid, who it is said was once praying while an angel ‘guided the plow’.

Together, we planted multiple varieties of tomatoes, peppers, herbs, cucumbers and flowers. At one point, we had three generations participating in the fun! Although some unknown critters nibbled some of the Heritage Girls initial plantings, they have added more seedlings which are now off to a good start. Special thanks to those who nurtured seedlings at home and to those who cared for and prepped the garden beds over the winter and spring.

Tip: Plant marigolds to attract pollinators and bring color to your garden. Animals don’t like their taste so with proper care they will last all season.

To help with watering the garden and ultimately harvesting/delivering produce and herbs throughout the season, contact Adam Vogel at adam.vogel20@gmail.com.

We welcome new members.

Consecration of the United States to the Sacred Heart of Jesus

As the United States of America commemorates the 250th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence in 2026, the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops (USCCB) join this celebration by lifting up the contributions of Catholics and the impact of our faith on the history of this country.

In a historic moment, the U.S. bishops will consecrate the U.S. to the Sacred Heart of Jesus this Thursday, June 11th, the eve of the Solemnity of the Sacred Heart. The Bishops ask Catholics throughout the country to join in the novena leading up to this consecration. Bishop Burbidge will formally reconsecrate the diocese to the Sacred Heart during the Vigil Mass that will be held next Saturday, June 13th, at 3:45pm at the Diocesan Festival in Berryville, VA.

Visit the USCCB site, <https://www.usccb.org/weholdthesetruths>, for more information.

Welcome New School Principal—Sister Elizabeth Anne Bartholomew, IHM

Dear Saint James Family,

I hope this note finds you well! I am excited to be joining this wonderful community as I serve as the next principal of Saint James Catholic School. My journey to where I am today began many years ago. I was born in Louisiana, moved to South Carolina, then to Alabama, before finally landing in Savannah, Georgia, at the age of ten. No, my immediate family isn't military, although members of my extended family are; my dad just happens to be a chemical engineer. His job caused us to move. When we landed in Savannah, my parents were determined to keep us there until my siblings and I finished high school. They wanted us to attend the same schools my mom's family attended. I will forever be grateful to them for making the necessary sacrifices to provide us with a Catholic School education.

When we moved to Savannah, I was able to attend a school with religious sisters for the first time. In fact, Saint James in Savannah has the presence of the Sisters, Servants of the Immaculate Heart of Mary. I was nervous to attend a school with religious sisters, but as you can probably guess, it made a lasting impact on me. Growing up, I planned my future out numerous times, but God had other plans. At one point, I wanted to be an astronaut or a veterinarian. In middle school, I felt a strong desire for service and was going to join the military after high school. Extended family members would ask me periodically what I wanted to be when I grew up. I'd always respond with one of these ideas. However, there was always a follow-up question: have you considered religious life? I tried my hardest to brush that question off and ignore it. I wanted nothing to do with religious life and thought surely, God wouldn't be calling me to it. This was even though I was only becoming more and more involved in my local parish community.

After Mass on vocation awareness Sunday of my sophomore year of high school, one of our Sisters stopped my mom after Mass. She told her, I think Beth might have a vocation to religious life. I walked up as the conversation was ending. I pestered my mom for the rest of the day to find out what Sister had said. Eventually, my mom gave in and told me that Sister seems to think I might have a vocation to religious life. I tried to laugh it off as I had done so in the past. However, this time the thought wouldn't go away. I thought that if this is from God, I should probably pay attention to it. So, I began to consider religious life.

My only exposure to religious sisters at this point had been the IHM Sisters in grade school and the Sisters of Mercy in high school. During college, I began to discern religious life. I visited several different communities, but always found such peace, joy, and an 'at home' feeling with our IHM sisters at our Motherhouse. I could see myself as an IHM. After I graduated, I began to teach while still discerning. Eventually, I applied to enter the Sisters, Servants of the Immaculate Heart of Mary. Since entering religious life in 2016, I've had the opportunity to teach, receive my master's degree from the University of Notre Dame, and serve as a vice principal in Philadelphia, among a variety of other things. It's been an incredibly blessed and joy-filled journey so far. I'm so excited to see what this next chapter will hold. I look forward to meeting you. Know that you are remembered daily in my prayers.

God Bless,

Sister Beth

A New Homeschool Annex in Parish Library

You are invited to see the newly renovated Homeschool Library and Resource Center in the Parish House from 10:00am–2:00pm this Sunday, June 7th. It was previously an unused space beside the library. You can see below, the former “reading room” was rather empty. If you are not able to stop by, the library is open every 1st and 3rd Sunday of the month from 10:00am-2:00pm.

Gianna Thiede, an American Heritage Girl, planned this task as her Senior Stars and Stripes project. Thanks to her hard work and parishioner donations, Gianna collected over 150 books, raised over $1,500, and coordinated over 200 volunteer hours on the project. An unused space is now a cozy and cheerful library in a welcoming spot for all to enjoy. After the renovation was complete, Father Pavlick blessed this new resource center.

Please note that the Parish Library will be closed July 4th weekend.

Contigo Youth Club

Contigo Youth Club is a Catholic non-profit organization serving under-resourced youth in the Bailey's Crossroads/Culmore/Seven Corners area of Falls Church. Located on the campus of St. Anthony of Padua, Contigo uniquely combines faith, nature, recreation, and creative exploration. By providing a healthy environment and enriching opportunities to discover and grow, Contigo opens up a world of hope and opportunity to at-risk kids.

By providing a healthy environment and enriching opportunities to learn and grow, we give at-risk kids opportunities that are off the streets and out of the confines of apartment life, opening up a world of hope. While every family contributes, tuition covers less than 25% of costs. Your tax-deductible gift can make this someone's best summer ever! A $1500 gift covers the cost for one camper to spend 6 weeks —300 hours— at Camp Contigo this summer.
