On The Way

A Catechesis on Hope: To Wait

The virtue most conspicuous in the season of Advent is hope. This has often been described as the forgotten virtue. Actually, it's more like the over-used and misunderstood virtue. As such, a short catechesis on hope seems in order.

Let's first clarify what we don't mean by hope. There is a feeling called hope, perhaps better called optimism: I hope I pass the test...I hope it doesn't rain...I hope the Nationals win the World Series... Those statements express not the virtue of hope but a feeling — an optimism — that things will go well. That feeling can be good or bad, depending on its connection to reality (and that of the last example is tenuous). Either way it's not the virtue of hope.

As a virtue, hope is an act of the will, a deliberate choice. It's the decision we make to trust in the Lord's goodness and promises. Note that well: to trust in him and not in our own ingenuity, in our wealth, in science, in medicine, in human wisdom, in military power, in a political candidate, in the stock market, in our education or degrees, etc. Any talent or asset we have is a gift from God inviting us to trust — not in that talent or asset — but in him, the giver.

Advent makes one aspect of hope especially evident: to wait. To hope in God means to wait for him to act and to trust that he will. And sometimes he makes us wait a long time. We know from our human relationships that to wait for someone means to trust — to hope in — that person. We show that we trust God (something he desires of us) when we wait for him. Impatience with him and his timing shows a lack of trust.

When we refuse to wait, then we begin to trust in human initiative, which is deeply against the virtue of hope. Yes, we have to work, apply our talents, and use our resources. But our efforts are always in response to and inspired by God's initiative. He is the one who acts first. We are the protagonists and heroes of our story, but he is the Author.

We've all heard the phrase, "God helps those who help themselves." In theological terms, that saying is called stupid. Scripture gives us many examples of men who helped themselves precisely because they failed to wait for God (or, more accurately, failed to hope in his assistance). Abram couldn't wait for Sarai to have a son, so he (at her recommendation) had children with his slave woman Hagar. Aaron couldn't wait for Moses to come down from Mount Sinai, so he fashioned the golden calf for the impatient Israelites to worship. Saul couldn't wait for Samuel to come and offer sacrifice, so he did it himself. For each man the failure to wait meant the loss of blessings. Hagar's son Ishmael became the father of the Arabs, with whom Abraham's other descendants have been in conflict ever since. The Israelites lost priestly privileges, which were then reserved to the Levites. Saul lost the kingship of Israel to that upstart shepherd, David.

The Virgin Mary, to whom we turn especially in this season, shows us perfect hope. She embodies the people of Israel waiting for the Messiah, hoping in the fulfillment of all that the Lord had promised them. With the angel's greeting to Mary — Hail, full of grace! — the time of waiting is over. His promises have been fulfilled.

— Fr. Scalia

Companions Needed to Accompany Persons in Need

Do you have some extra time and would like to help a person in need? Saint James assists certain needy persons with transportation, shopping, doctor visits, and similar errands. These individuals also often desire socialization, such as having breakfast or lunch with you, attending parish social events, and so on. The work is rewarding because the helper develops a relationship with the individuals needing assistance. Please email Rich, rblickendorfer@stjamescatholic.org, if interested.

“By this my Father is glorified, that you bear much fruit, and so prove to be my disciples.”
(John 15:8).

The breakfast, in Monsignor Heller Hall, will include a chance to get your child's picture with Santa. The workshop, in the cafeteria, is a great opportunity for your children to secretly buy Christmas gifts for everyone on their list. There will be "Elf assistants" to help the younger students make their purchases in secret. Gift items range from $0.50-$25 and gift cards from $10-$25. The gifts will be wrapped, tagged, and ready for delivery under the tree. So, after Mass and pancakes, be sure to bring the kids to the cafeteria for their Christmas shopping. In addition to attending the entire week of camp, teens are required to attend four preparation meetings and participate in fundraising activities. The cost is $525, but the fundraising covers a large part of this. Each parent should plan to volunteer in some way such as helping with fundraising, spending one afternoon at camp as a security volunteer, being a crew leader, or helping in some other way. Please email Karen Graffam, klgraffam@gmail.com, if you are interested in participating.

Stewardship—The Gift of Time, Talent and Treasure

Sanctuary Restoration and Renewal Project

We hope you enjoyed the recent mailing from Father Scalia on the Sanctuary Restoration and Renewal project, scheduled to begin at the end of January 2023. It was sent to all registered parishioners of Saint James Parish. The mailer includes a letter and watercolor rendering of the proposed restoration pictured to the right. If you did not receive this mailing and believe you are a registered parishioner, please contact the Rectory Office, 703-532-8815 or email rectory@stjamescatholic.org, and someone can help you.

As Father Scalia mentioned in his November 5-6 homily, the projected cost for this restoration and renewal is $500,000 and thanks to the generosity of some parishioners, over half has been raised. If you would like to contribute to this project, you can do so by mailing a check to the office with “Sanctuary Restoration” in the memo line or by donating online at <https://membership.faithdirect.net/enroll/choosegifts/VA50/48767>.

Faith Direct has set up a special fund for this project that allows one-time, monthly, or quarterly donations to the Sanctuary Restoration Fund. This fund will expire in December of 2023. If you have any questions, please contact Kathleen Anderson at kanderson@stjamescatholic.org or 703-532-8815 x223. As always, thank you for your generosity and support!
